

McDONOUGH TRIAL JURY BEING DRAWN

Judge Griffin Presides Over Craft Case; Concedes That the Present Panel of 69 Names Will Be Insufficient

Attorneys for Accused Bail Bond Broker Concerned at Questioning of Proposed Jurymen By the Court

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—With both the prosecution and the defense represented by a noteworthy array of counsel, Pete McDonough, bail bond broker, went to trial today before Superior Judge Franklin A. Griffin on a charge of perjury growing out of the so-called craft expose of San Francisco's police courts.

It is said to be the first time that McDonough ever has been in the hall of justice in any capacity, despite his close affiliation with scores of persons who had occasion to transact business in the big building.

TRIAL EXPECTED TO BE BITTER.

The bitterness with which the trial is to be prosecuted was indicated at the outset in the examination of prospective jurors in representing tilts between attorneys representing the state and the defense.

During the examination of the "aleman," C. Vincent Ricardi, who is credited with having brought about the investigation which resulted in a general shake-up of the courts in the hall of justice and the indictments of McDonough and Police Judge John Sullivan, sauntered in and out of the court, no time, however, remaining for more than a few minutes.

TWO WOMEN AMONG TALESMEN.

Outwardly calm, McDonough appeared in court, taking a seat directly behind his counsel, Attorneys Bert Schlusinger and Louis Byington, the trio being separated by a narrow table from Attorney General U. S. Webb, Assistant Attorney General E. B. Power and his assistant, Milton U'Ren.

Up to shortly after noon, seven talesmen, two of them women, temporarily had been drawn from the pool of jurors, but the judge's opinions regarding guilt of the defendant led to the dismissal of the other talesmen after a brief examination in each instance had made their inability to be acceptable to the defense.

Schlusinger provoked the first clash when he asked Robert McLean, a contractor, if he, McLean, believed it right for a newspaper to cartoon or write offensive articles on a defendant on the eve of the defendant's trial. This question, vigorously was objected to by U'Ren, the objection being sustained by Judge Griffin who did not agree with Schlusinger that the query was entirely proper.

Schlusinger has "TIT" WITH WEBB.

The second encounter which followed a few minutes later, was a trifling one and did not result in any action until Attorney General Webb and Schlusinger had exchanged a few more or less impolite observations.

Schlusinger had asked a talesman a question intended to ascertain the latter's attitude toward the defendant. The judge's admonishment to proceed immediately with the examination of the talesmen.

When the jury box had been filled with talesmen, Power, in a brief statement, was ready to proceed with the charge against McDonough and said the prosecution had elected to bring him to trial on the perjury case first. Power explained that the prosecution would endeavor to prove McDonough had perjured himself in testimony given before the grand jury as to the amount he had received in his share of a note tendered to Ricardi by Bernardino Catterini who has played a more or less important part in police court disclosures. McDonough also is under indictment on a charge of bribery.

JUDGE GRIFFIN WATCHES BOX.

Unusual care marked the selection of the jurors from the jury box. The box, first of all, was placed on a desk directly in front of Judge Griffin by William Shaffer, new court clerk, who was appointed to the position by County Clerk Harry Mulvihill during the absence of James Groom, regular clerk, who is said to be on a vacation, but who will not return to Judge Griffin's court. Judge Griffin declares he will not permit Groom again to officiate in his department as a result of a demonstration recently made by Ricardi as to his professed ability to disclose how jurors in the superior court were "handpicked."

It was observed that Judge Griffin carefully supervised the withdrawal from the jury box of the small slips of paper bearing the names of talesmen and that the box carefully was locked after the jury assembly had been filled. Judge Schlusinger, in his examination of talesmen, asked them particularly if they had been influenced or could be influenced by what they had read of the defendant in an afternoon and morning newspaper and also if they believed a defendant "should be tried in the newspapers and not in the court."

Moss Murder Suspect Dies By Own Hand

Army Sleuths Still Hunting for Escaped Men From Camp Grant

CAMP GRANT, Ill., June 17.—With a bullet hole through his head the body of Private Cecil Powers, of an artillery regiment stationed at Camp Grant, was found today at a point on Rock River, seven miles from the scene of the slaying of Mrs. Maud Lucille Moss on Tuesday.

Beside the body were found notes to his parents and a .45 calibre army pistol—the same type of weapon used in the killing of Mrs. Moss. An investigation has been started to determine whether the supposed suicide of the soldier has any bearing on Mrs. Moss' death.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Scores of talesmen, today, were drawn from the pool of jurors, but the judge's opinions regarding guilt of the defendant led to the dismissal of the other talesmen after a brief examination in each instance had made their inability to be acceptable to the defense.

PINK SILKS DEATH GIRL NOW KNOWN

Owner of Lingerie Found in Elwell Home, Where Turfman Is Murdered, Identified as Frequent Visitor at Place

Housekeeper Tells Police She Hid Garments in Effort to Shield Young Woman, But Did Not Discover Revolver

NEW YORK, June 17. (United Press).—The girl who owned the pink silk nightgown, boudoir cap and slippers found in the home of Joseph B. Elwell, slain turfman and whist expert, is known to the authorities today.

Detectives are searching for her and District Attorney Dooling hoped to question her during the day. The girl's name was revealed by Mrs. Marie Larsen, housekeeper for Elwell.

ELWELL HOUSEKEEPER WOULD SHIELD GIRL. The housekeeper reluctantly admitted when the first entered the house Friday morning and found her employer unconscious in a chair, her first thought was to shield the girl.

"You hid the garments, didn't you?" Dooling asked.

"Yes but I hid nothing else," she replied.

She insisted she did not see the revolver with which Elwell was shot and which the authorities have been unable to locate.

Mrs. Larsen said she was not asked by the girl to hide the clothes. "I thought it would not be nice for them to be found there," she said.

GIRL'S VISITS FREQUENT TO HOME OF TURFMAN. Mrs. Larsen said the girl often passed the mornings with Elwell and that she frequently prepared meals for them. The girl had been in the house about two weeks previously, Mrs. Larsen said.

Mrs. Larsen was said to have seen a letter written by Anna, the Kennedy girl, appealing to Elwell for assistance.

"Important developments in the case today," were predicted by Assistant District Attorney Joyce.

WON SCHLEGEL'S CASE. IS QUIZZED BY POLICE. Victor Von Schlegel, divorced husband of Viola Weiss, today was examined for the second time in the investigation into the murder of Elwell.

Mrs. Kraus was with Elwell and three others on the eve of the murder and had an engagement with him on the following day.

Victor Von Schlegel was with a "woman in black" from Minneapolis while the Elwell party was at another table in the same dining-room. Miss Kraus reported that the party was held to celebrate her divorce.

"ANNA" OF KENTUCKY DETAILS FRIENDSHIP. LEXINGTON, Ky., June 17.—United Press. A girl who is known as "Anna" mentioned by New York authorities in the murder of Joseph B. Elwell was found here today. She had been told of her acquaintance with Elwell.

She is a brunette, about 20 years old. Police here do not attempt to connect her with the girl referred to by the New York authorities, who advanced the theory that Elwell was shot by a relative of a Lexington girl.

"Anna" told the police she had been introduced to Elwell by a well-known society woman. She said she had accepted his invitation to dinner.

RELATIONS WITH ELWELL ONLY FORMAL, IS CLAIM. "Later, I became ill and went to a hospital," she said, "and when he heard I was there he sent me some flowers. When he left Lexington I received from him a farewell note, which I answered in a most formal and impersonal way, merely thanking him for courtesies he had shown me."

"That, no doubt, is the note they found among his possessions in New York."

During his visit to Lexington, Elwell was known to have been in circles, being much in demand at whist and bridge parties. At one party he lost $300.

Akron, O., Asked About Slain 'Two-Gun Man'. LOS ANGELES, June 17.—The police at Akron, O., today were asked to take a hand in the investigation of the killing of John Knox Portwood, "two-gun" mystery man, who was shot by forest rangers in San Gabriel canyon Sunday, when he was alleged to have threatened Mrs. Blanche Cole.

Mrs. Sadie Johnson, Mrs. Cole's cook, in a formal statement to the sheriff, declared Portwood is the man who killed a woman in Akron in 1909 and thrust her body into a lake. She said she recognized him by a scar on his face.

MISS SPRING TERMINATES ENGAGEMENT

Debutante Surprises Guests at Sally Havens' Wedding With News That She Will Not Be Wedded to Jack Grennan

"Marjorie's Too Young," Says Her Sister; Statement Made She Will Return to Complete Her Studies at Mills

Choosing as a time for the announcement of the end of one of the spring romances a scene of wedding festivity, Miss Marjorie Spring, bridemaid at the wedding of Miss Sally Havens and Thomas Johnson Grier, last night divulged the secret that the engagement between her and John A. Grennan Jr. had been broken off.

"I thought I might as well announce it at this time as any," said Miss Spring. "There is nothing more to be said, except that I wish to return to Mills and complete my studies."

Mrs. Noble Newsom, sister to Miss Spring, added explanations to the announcement which spread among the wedding guests and made the pretty bridemaid a center of attention.

"Marjorie is too young to marry, anyway," said Mrs. Newsom. "She does not know her own mind. Now that she is going back to Mills she may complete the two years of college course yet before her. The engagement is definitely broken and we think it best to have it so announced."

Marjorie Spring is the daughter of Mrs. John Spring Warfield and John Spring, millionaire, who formerly lived in Berkeley. She is a sister of Mrs. George Friend, Mrs. Perry Murdoch, Mrs. Noble Newsom and Mrs. Lyman Covell. Grennan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grennan of Oakland and is a junior at the University of California. Both are prominent socially and the announcement of the engagement, made at the reception at Mills in April, was the occasion of surprise and of many formal and informal affairs.

Miss Spring's sister, Mrs. Lyman Covell, who with Miss Dorothy Spring, surprised society some time ago with the breaking of her engagement to Dr. J. C. Pedon of Honolulu after a courtship on the islands.

Together they figured in an automobile accident which resulted in suit being brought against Miss Spring for $10,000. Shortly after she broke her engagement she married Covell.

Wilson to Keep In Close Touch, Says Tumulty

League of Nations Message Due to Be Sprung at Proper Time

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—The question as to how much influence "the sick man at Washington" will have on the Democratic convention was given a backward and then forward impetus today with two statements from Secretary Tumulty.

Tumulty first denied that Wilson will have a special wire from the White House to the convention floor and then took the floor on his declaration by adding that "the president's message" may be sent to him in close touch with the proceedings.

Wilson to BE IN "TIGHT WITH PROCEEDINGS." "Certain it is that President Wilson is taking an active part in the preliminaries to the big show. He is in close touch with the proceedings."

It is understood that President Wilson already is preparing a message to the delegates which will be regarded as a "platform" message. The president's message may be sent to him in close touch with the proceedings.

THE BRITISH TRADE UNION CONGRESS. CUMMINGS IN FAVOR AT WILSON THRONES. Indications today were that the administration favors Herbert S. Cummings for permanent as well as temporary chairman of the convention, though it was said that Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby might be backed for the place.

Tumulty will not attend the convention.

Palmer, Cox and McAdoo to Lead Declares Mack

New York Unpledged, But in Favor of Wet Plank, Adds Buffalo Man

BY UNITED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Governor Cox of Ohio, William G. McAdoo and Attorney General Palmer "will not be far apart on the first ballot at the Democratic national convention in San Francisco," Norman Mack, Democratic national committeeman from New York, predicted today.

Mack passed through here in company with E. H. Moore, one of Cox's campaign managers, en route to San Francisco.

Mack declined to discuss the prospective platform except to say that New York would vote for a wet plank. He is a member of the New York delegation. As to the nomination, Mack would not predict who New York would support, saying the delegation is unpledged.

Moore declared Governor Cox is a "progressive," and "is strong both with labor and capital," and that he would carry Ohio over Harding if nominated.

Both Moore and Mack declined to comment on "third party" movements and refused flatly to attack the Republican platform.

Mack said it was a "coincidence" that he and Moore were traveling together.

WISE ONES SAY 'POOH' BUT UGLY SPECTERS ARE HAUNTING FEAST

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Without any press agents or secretaries to represent them and accompanied only by snaky music from the undercurrent orchestra three bogey men took their places in Candidates' Row today. They are Herbert Hoover, General Pershing and Woodrow Wilson.

Of course none of these men, in person, is in San Francisco, but work is being done in behalf of each and each is being attached to the possibilities of their names coming before the convention to cause consternation in the hundred and one camps of non-bogey men. Outwardly a chorus of non-bogey men greeted the coming and all over the Palace hotel today the seeker for information may be told that "there is absolutely nothing in the talk that would factor any of them."

Then Mrs. Bass, with the tact that has many times sent her back to her position on the bureau, added, "Personally, in my estimation, Palmer would make as able a candidate."

Mrs. Bass did not deny that she had been besieged with Hoover questions, but she believed that the women would be a popular candidate if the women if chosen.

OLD TIMES WOULD'NT DO THING TO HERBERT. The old timers here are the only ones who chuckle at the possibility. They know what the leaders would do to the former food taster. "Personally, in my estimation, Palmer would make as able a candidate."

Of all the bogies the Hoover one is the most peculiar and the most bothersome. Into the women's bureau every day come determined women voters who, after declaring their unsavory devotion to the party, announce with emphasis that they are for Herbert Hoover. Protests that he is a Republican and explanations that he cannot be a candidate do nothing but ruffle the visitors.

In the headquarters there is a disposition to change the subject whenever the name is mentioned, but it is admitted that in certain quarters, notably in New York, an effort is being made to induce the party to consider the Palo Alto man. The New York Post the other day carried a long article on its editorial page, the tenor of which was that it made little difference which party

THEY'RE ALL CHUMMY. Speaking of friends, it has been a long-cherished bond not of the misogynist that woman can't be friends. If you sit around the committee-rooms on the fourth floor of the Palace, you'll conclude that the new order of women can be friends on the same basis as their husbands and brothers. Women of Both Parties Join in Plan for Dinner to Feminine Delegates to Democratic Meet Republican women have cast aside political lines and combined with the Women's Democratic Club of Alameda county to give an entertainment and luncheon at 12 o'clock noon, June 26, in the ballroom of the Hotel Oakland to 500 delegates to the Democratic National Convention, at which time Vice-President Thomas E. Marshall, William C. McNab, Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, Governor James M. Cox of Ohio and many other prospective presidential candidates will deliver short addresses.

Details for the affair, from the discussion of floral designs for decorations to the naming of the chairman for the delegates of the 48 states and territories, were taken up last night at a meeting of the Women's Democratic Club held in the Hotel Oakland, and presided over by Mrs. Currie L. Hoyt, president. Miss Mollie Connors of the Republican State Central committee sat with Mrs. Hoyt. Pretty girls in big bouquets of flowers, California's fruits and flowers will be on all the tables.

FIFTY-TWO TABLES. Fifty-two tables will be set aside for the women delegates from Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and Washington, D. C. An Alameda county woman who has been one of the chairwomen of the state table and will be responsible for the entertainment of the distinguished women visitors.

word from the state, although there is some Palmer strength in the delegation. Charles Boeschelstein, a single delegate, is one of the early arrivals on the scene. The day has also heard many predictions that Marshall will be the dark horse to enter the fight after Cox, Palmer and McAdoo have exhausted their full strength in a futile attempt to gather in a two-thirds vote.

REED TO GET SEAT. Missouri has succeeded in putting Senator Reed on the list of delegates regardless of the fact that he was turned down in the election. The delegates are to meet Saturday and will appoint him. Of course he will fight the administration.

Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, and delegate from Iowa, has arranged to transport the delegates to the Panama-Pacific exposition and is being welcomed by a host of friends he made here. Marsh is for Meredith, secretary of the treasury, and the favored Palmer in the event Meredith was eliminated, he said, "Palmer is a splendid Democrat and man and certainly every one should be friendly to him." Then he changed the subject.

ALASKA WOMAN TALKS. Mrs. John West Troy, associate committee woman from Alaska, was the first delegate to address the conference. She spoke upon the need of a more liberal policy towards Alaska, with special reference to transportation facilities and an educational campaign.

United States would plead for the opening of the coal mines with the certainty that they ask for the preservation of the brown bear Alaska would be grateful and far more prosperous.

MRS. GERBERDING WORKS. Prominent among the ranks of the Democratic women this week is Mrs. Elizabeth Gerberding of San Francisco. Mrs. Gerberding stepped out of the ranks of the old line Republicans at the time of the formation of the Progressive Republican party. She supported the Progressive party until this year. She declared yesterday that since she was for League of Nations—not a league but the league (with large reservations)—her conscience would not allow her to work with any party save the Democratic party.

Among the prominent women who have arrived in San Francisco is Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, associate national committee woman, of Washington, D. C. who yesterday passed through on her way to Del Monte, where she will entertain Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, returning for the meeting of the executive committee which will be held on June 25.

Distinguished women who will arrive shortly include Mrs. A. B. Pike of Ohio who is considered a good speaker and who was active in Liberty Loan drives in her state, Mrs. Kate D. Morrow and Mrs. Martha Taft of Missouri, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks of Chicago and Mrs. Peter Olsen of Minnesota.

WOOD KILLED BY EXPENSE EXPOSE, WRITES BUTLER. NEW YORK, June 17.—President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university, defeated presidential aspirant at the Chicago convention, "will give such time and energy to the support of the Harding-Coolidge ticket as he can spare from his official duties."

This declaration was contained in a reply to General Wood's angry statement in Chicago when he termed the president of Columbia university "a faker and a liar."

Dr. Butler's answer continues, "Political postmortems are futile but I am sorry General Wood lost his temper. It does not sound well. The facts as to his campaign funds are not of my making. They were revealed by a New York newspaper many weeks ago. Many of the delegates at Chicago believed these revelations would defeat General Wood if he were nominated."

No Action Taken On Soviet Recognition. BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. DETROIT, Mich., June 17.—The Michigan branch of the Committee of Forty Eight in its state convention here, June 15, took no action on a resolution proposing recognition of the present Russian government as was erroneously reported immediately after the convention, according to the state executive committee. It was explained today that the misunderstanding apparently grew out of the debate on a resolution declaring against interference in the domestic affairs of foreign nations. "The committee of Forty-Eight platform is a domestic platform, on American economic affairs and has not yet concerned itself with international affairs in any way," the executive committee statement said. This committee certified forty-two delegates to the national convention.

'WET' AND 'DRY' LOOM AS CHIEF BOURBON ISSUES

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—There will be no dearth of material for the construction of the Democratic platform.

Already with but a fraction of the delegates and national committee-men on hand enough material has been proffered to erect one of staggering size.

Of course the main timbers and principal parts of the platform will come from Washington in charge of Senator C. C. Glass. This does not prevent those already on the ground assembling a little of the material they want to see in the completed platform.

The "wet" and "dry" issue looms as the big controversy before the platform committee, perhaps later the convention. There is more pre-convention talk among arriving delegations on that subject than on any other issue despite the tendency of the leaders to soft pedal discussion of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act.

The arrival of William Jennings Bryan and Governor Edwards, leaders of the two camps interested in the prohibition issue, is expected to further enliven this issue.

SUFFRAGE AND LABOR.

Labor, suffrage and Irish leaders do not intend to pass up any opportunity for their cause before the Democratic convention.

Samuel Gompers and Matthew Wolf of the American Federation of Labor will arrive here today for the formal opening of the convention. "They have served notice on the party leaders that they will urge adoption of a plank much more favorable to labor than that adopted in Chicago."

Arrangements are being made to give them a hearing before the resolutions committee.

Eugene de Valera, president of the Irish cause, supported by a score of prominent sympathizers with the Irish cause, will arrive several days before the convention. It is apparent that strong efforts will be made to get the so-called "Irish" plank calling for recognition of the Irish republic into the platform.

PICKETING PROMISED.

Two field marshals of the suffrage forces are here today and a score of suffrage workers are already here. Alice Paul and Abby Baker, who led the picketing in Washington and directed the demonstration during the Republican convention in Chicago, are expected to arrive early next week. Suffragists here said decision as to picketing the convention will await their arrival.

With the first "got together" meeting of the national committee tentatively set for noon, Friday, members of that body were arriving today from all sections of the country. The national committee is made up of 108 members, 53 being women.

One of the party veterans to arrive today was Norman E. Mack of Buffalo. Mack began attending conventions in 1892 and has been a member of the national committee for twenty years. He represents the advance guard of the New York delegation.

Announcement in Washington that Attorney General Palmer expects to attend the convention came as a surprise to leaders here. His managers here indicated he would remain away from the convention.

McNAB HAS PLAN.

National Treasurer Wildermarsh declared upon his arrival here that Secretary of Agriculture Meredith will have the solid support of the Iowa delegation for the presidential nomination. He declined to say who would get the Iowa vote as a second choice.

Considerable significance attached to the announcement today that Gavin McNab, leader of the California Democratic delegation, that a majority of delegates from the states of California, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, Washington and Oregon have responded favorably to an invitation to hold a pre-convention conference to determine upon cooperation on matters affecting the Pacific coast.

While the call for the meeting went out by McNab was extremely guarded, it was reported today that a general discussion of the western political situation and the political and legislative needs of the states affected will be had at the first meeting.

Coolidge Attacks Class Distinction.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 17.—"Class distinction" was assailed by Governor Calvin Coolidge Republican in an address delivered to the graduating class of Holy Cross college here. President J. J. Carlin of the college introduced the governor as "the next Vice-President of the United States."

"It is for the interest of the people to avoid class distinction and live ever for the welfare of the country," Governor Coolidge said. "The freedom of the country is also one other great principle—the support of constituted authority, on which rests all property rights. Without property rights our progress would be destroyed. If we are able to make progress we must observe the relationship of man to man. Freedom means the recognition of constituted authority and of living up to it at all times."

COX BOOSTER TO CALL RALLY FOR MAN IN OAKLAND

H. T. Scott of Cincinnati, supporter of Governor Cox of Ohio for the Democratic nomination and an attendant at almost every Ohio and national convention for the last forty-eight years, is registered at the Hotel Oakland.

Scott, who has been touring California for pleasure and health for the past six months, has picked out Oakland as a city of beauty and promise and is interested in centering more of the convention activities in this city. To this end and in the interests of his candidate, he is planning for a big Cox rally and Cox banquet to be held here before or during the convention.

Scott predicted the nomination of Senator Harding by the Republicans and says that he is the that there are only a few who take the Wilson figure seriously.

The Pershing bogey is perhaps the most formidable of all. It has started no end of arguments. It is recalled, of course, that the general has asked to be relieved of his army post and his words, "I feel that no patriotic American could decline to serve in that high position if called upon to do so by the people," are being repeated.

General Pershing has no idea of coming to San Francisco any more than he did of going to Chicago.

Partly responsible for the Pershing scare was the report that spread throughout Washington and New York that the soldier had held a conference with Senator Hitchcock. This was followed by an excited telegram from a correspondent who discovered that the A. E. F. leader had had the greatest and strongest man who could be named.

"Senator Harding is one of the best informed men at the present time," says the Democrat, who is for Cox, "and if he is elected we can all feel safe."

dinner with Senator Warren of Wyoming. Later it was found that it was one of Pershing's aides, in the general's car, who visited Hitchcock and the Warren dinner, of course, was no more than a family affair.

Pershing is Warren's son-in-law. In Washington it has always been understood that Pershing is a Republican.

MICHIGAN WILL VOTE HOOVER ON FIRST

DETROIT, Mich., June 17 (By the United Press).—Herbert Hoover, defeated candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will receive the support of the entire Michigan delegation on the first ballot at the National Democratic convention, leaders here today declared.

"I shall vote for Hoover on the first ballot out of respect for the primary law," said Judge William F. Connolly, Democratic national committeeman.

Part of the delegation have announced their intention of standing by Hoover as long as he has a chance for the nomination.

Newspaper Oracles Pass Through Utah

SALT LAKE CITY, June 17.—The newspaper special train carrying over eighty newspaper men to the San Francisco convention passed through here late yesterday afternoon, after a stopover of several hours.

The writers were invited to hear an organ recital and view a bathing girl review, as guests of the city. One of the events drew a capacity attendance from the scribes.

Sentiment from persons along the line of travel has revealed the great popularity of a presidential ticket headed by McAdoo and Cox.

Margaret Wilson and Mrs. McAdoo Expected

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Reports today that Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, would attend the Democratic convention here as a visitor, caused excitement among the women delegates here today. The women's bureau of the convention had received no official word of her coming, but it was admitted that the report had reached headquarters.

It was expected that Mrs. William G. McAdoo, also a daughter of the president, will come to San Francisco if her husband decides to attend the convention.

BREAKING THRU

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

If the occasion of our difference had been other than it was I am afraid I should have experienced a distinct thrill of gratified feminine malice at Katie's revelation. Dicky's discomfiture when he learned that in his own phraseology I "had beaten him to the very scheme he had outlined for not meeting him at the breakfast table had indeed something ludicrous in it, but my sombre mood held no opportunity for lightening.

For as the momentary approach of my return to the Bayview school my facing of the gruesome tragedy in which my principal was involved—in which, indeed, Alice Holcombe and I might be enmeshed—my nerves began to assert themselves again. The delicious iced cantaloupe suddenly lost its flavor, and I pushed it away only half eaten.

Katie, coming in with the cereal, was voluble in her disapproval.
"Oh, Messis Graham! You not eat dot melon, and it look so nice, too. Not matter? Was dere a bad spot in eat?"

"No, no, Katie. It is delicious, but I do not feel like eating this morning. I don't wish any cereal either. Just bring me my coffee. Is it strong?"

"She loost vey I always make her," rejoined Katie, with the idiom at which in a less perplexed moment I should have hugely enjoyed. "But I no bring coffee till you eat dot mush," she went on with the solicitous-tyranny Katie reserves for me sometimes. "You no can go to school and no eat your breakfast. Goom, Katie fess for you, nice!"

"All Right, Katie." Her voice was the same as she would have used to Junior if he had been a year or older. She busied herself with the cereal, preparing it as she knew I like it best, and put it before me with an appealing little glance which asked pardon for her impetuosity.

"All right, Katie," I smiled forgivingly, at her. "I'll try to eat this, but bring my coffee at once, please, and nothing else."

"Oh-h, Miss Graham," she protested, "ven I fess you somethings so-o nice!"

"I'm sorry, Katie, but I cannot possibly eat anything more," I said firmly. "Supper you eat it for your own breakfast."

"I feel like throwing eat at dot cat," she muttered in fearful childish rebellion as she left the room. But when she returned her volatile nature had thrown off her disappointment and she was intent only upon the coffee, over which she fussed as if it were some life-saving medicine which she was charged to administer.

"You drink dot, every drop," she asserted, and I gladly obeyed. Her for the hot, fragrant liquid always puts new vigor into my veins.

AT THE STATION.
I felt the need of all its bracing influence as I left the train at Bayview. It was a much earlier train than I usually take, for Alice Holcombe and I had agreed to meet at the schoolhouse very early in the morning, so as to get out of the way the administrative work which awaited us in Mr. Stockett's absence, and as I stepped off at the platform I saw a large group of the commuters whom I miss with the later train.

They were excitedly talking to each other and I heard the name Stockett bridge two or three times, and knew they were discussing the tragedy. Then as I hurried down the platform past them, looking neither to the right nor the left, I heard a comment which annoyed me.

"There's one of 'em now," a man's voice said in a low tone.

"Where?" a woman's shrill voice whispered.

"That pippin with the anburn hair."

"Her?" "I don't think she's anything much for looks."

"Where's your eye?" the man rejoined unhesitatingly. "I don't wonder Ken decided to bump the old girl off when he had anything like that in the school."

"Shut up," apprehensively. "You don't know that she did it, and you've got no business."

WIFE DIVORCED; CRUELTY ALLEGED

Made to stand up in court and receive a merciless excoriation for the he had choked his wife and applied epiploids to her, was the wife of Carl Woodbridge who today divorced by Mrs. Hazel A. Woodbridge.

Judge George A. Sturtevant of San Francisco, sitting for Judge St. Sure, was the member of the bench who delivered the severe reprimand without allowing Woodbridge to utter an excuse. Judge Sturtevant told him the opinion of a man who would use physical violence toward any woman, much less his wife, and also that a husband who would call a father of his children such names as he had applied to his wife.

This lecture was given after Judge Sturtevant had instructed Mrs. Woodbridge to do as she pleased with her husband and the demonstration proved sufficient to bring forth the capitulation. Mrs. Woodbridge was granted custody of two young children with $50 a month alimony.

DURANT SCHOOL HONORS DUNBAR

Three hundred mothers and teachers of Durant school pupils tendered a farewell reception to the retiring principal, S. C. Dunbar, at the school auditorium last night.

Mrs. John Mullens, president of the Durant School Parent-Teachers Association, was in charge of arrangements for the reception.

Judge Everett J. Brown and Judge James G. Quinn, Superintendent of Schools, Fred M. Hunter and members of the Board of Education, all paid tribute to Principal Dunbar, who, more than 70 years of age, is retiring after fifty-five years of service as a California educator.

Musical numbers were furnished by teachers and students.

Ousted at Midnight, Wife's Suit Charges

Married in Norway twelve years ago, Mrs. Margaret Renholtz is suing John Renholtz, a machinist, for divorce charging that he has an extremely violent temper which led him into calling her a "snake" and other epithets, threatening her life with a knife, throwing a wooden stool at her and knocking her down with his fists on several occasions.

The wife also charges that Renholtz once drove her, with her baby out of the house at midnight and she was compelled to seek an asylum with friends. Mrs. Renholtz asks that she be given custody of three young children with $40 a week alimony and half of the community property consisting of household goods and stock in the American Coin Register Company.

Publicity Manager Is Ad Club Speaker

By the National Jewellers' Publicity Association in advertising the next year, according to Harry E. Freund, manager of publicity in an address at the luncheon of the San Francisco Ad club at the Palace hotel yesterday.

National publicity is the greatest factor in the nation's progress, Freund declared. Due to the emotional factor in life, publicity is as necessary as any other article in the life of the people, he said.

Fire Bureau Manager Is Rotarian Speaker

Jay W. Stevens, manager of the fire bureau of the city of the Pacific coast, was the principal speaker today noon at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary club at the Hotel Oakland.

Harry Anderson, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave an outline of the program for the coming year. Vice President William Myers presided.

ADORABLE GIRL SOON TO AMUSE TRIBUNE READERS

Mary Marie, the heroine of Eleanor H. Porter's new novel, is called by the reviewers the most intensely alive and adorable girl that has brightened American literature for many years. The daughter of an austere father who wanted to name his daughter Mary and of a young and somewhat flighty mother who insisted on calling her Marie, her double name exactly expresses the nature that the girl has inherited—a delightful blend of demure goodness and lively charm, of a sense of duty and love of mischief, that make her the most appealing of the many famous child characters that the author of "Pollyanna" and "Just David" has created.

"Mary Marie" starts soon in The Oakland Tribune.

PROBE STORAGE PLANTS

SAN JOSE, June 17.—The facilities in cold storage plants here are being investigated this week by W. S. Bal, inspector, and H. C. Dink...

AMERICAN LEGION GOSSIP

Colonel Roger Fitch, chief of operations of the First Army of the American Expeditionary Forces during the world war, was the principal speaker Tuesday evening at the Americanization and social meeting in the Municipal Auditorium, under the direction of Oakland Post No. 5 of the American Legion. The program included a variety of talent, among the headliners being Red Harkness, soloist; Lew Cole, cowboy fiddler, and Mrs. Mabel H. Turner, singer. Marian Brandt, winner of the recent patriotic essay contest held among the Oakland school children, under the direction of the League of Americans, gave a short patriotic talk. There were several musical numbers by an instrumental trio consisting of Dorothy Dukes, cellist, Mary Elizabeth Jump, violinist, and Helen Marie Reynolds, harpist.

special vaudeville act was presented through the courtesy of the Oakland Orpheum.

Secretary Price of the Oakland post has issued a warning to all the members advising that each man who carried war risk insurance during the time he was in the service, have his insurance reinstated before July 1, so that he may take advantage of some of the privileges which will come to an end at that time. Only two weeks remain in which the privileges under the blanket provision of the war risk insurance act can be taken advantage of, and every ex-service man who has not been discharged for a period of over eighteen months is entitled to reinstatement.

The American Legion ball team of Oakland will play the Fort Baker team next Sunday at the latter's grounds. A partially new line-up has been secured to go up against the strong Fort Baker team, and some good ball is expected to be played when the two teams cross bats. The team and rooters will leave at 10 o'clock Sunday morning from the Sixteenth street station.

The meeting night of the Marine Corps veterans has been changed from Friday to Wednesday nights. The Veterans of Foreign Wars meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Both organizations meet at the City Hall.

General Pershing is going back to civies. After an enviable record from the very first day he became a shavetail, the C-in-C. has informed Secretary Baker that he plans to retire within the next few months. No reasons were stated in the general's letter to Mr. Baker, except that he desired to be free "to engage in something more active" than winding up the affairs of the A. E. F. and some work incident to the recently enacted army reorganization bill. The former commander did not say what he planned to do when he finally decides to quit.

It cost the United States $393,716,000 to settle all the claims made against her by the associated and allied powers and their nationals, while the surplus material following the departure of the American Expeditionary Forces which remained to be disposed of were sold at $22,023,235. These figures are set forth in the final report of the War Department.

Liquidation Commission to Secretary Baker.

Herman H. Phillips, of Berdan, formerly of Company E, 16th Infantry, Rainbow Division, is about to receive his own body being shipped from France in a government casket. The body is coming direct from France along with many others, according to the War Department, and Phillips' father is asked what disposition he wants made of his son's remains. The son at present is working for a railroad at Berdan.

Members of organized labor are urged to become members of the American Legion in an editorial published recently in the Chronicle, the official organ of the Ohio Central Labor Council.

Mexican Oil Decree Brings Big Protest

MEXICO CITY, June 17.—Representatives of more than twenty foreign oil companies conferred with General Jacinto B. Trevino, secretary of industry, commerce and labor, yesterday regarding the difficulties arising from executive decrees issued under article 27 of the constitution, which nationalizes petroleum territory, according to the Excelsior. It is understood General Trevino assures the oil men the government was not acting through prejudice and that it would treat all alike.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be.

That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.

Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Wm. L. Fletcher

Tremendous Half-Price Sale

Involving thousands of dollars' worth of merchandise to be disposed of in Two Days---Friday and Saturday (All Day)

As our many customers and friends have observed, this Shop has been more or less disturbed in the past few months because of building operations. Every department has been shifted around to accommodate the Architect, Carpenter, Painter, and other busy workers. Because of this, much merchandise has suffered. Falling plaster, sifting dust, hurried handling have caused a certain proportion of our fine stocks to become a trifle soiled or rumpled.

So we have decided to close out all this merchandise at Half-Price Friday and Saturday, regardless of original cost or value! In other words, you may have thousands of dollars worth of merchandise for 1/2 its price the last two days of this week.

Because of the remarkable nature of this offering, we believe that it will make Friday and Saturday two unrivalled selling days at the Livingston Shop. For your convenience, we will be open all day Saturday. But, to avoid the congestion certain to occur later on, we advise that you Shop Early on Friday!

The finest merchandise we carry being the most perishable, much of it is included in this Half-Price Sale. This brings luxuries into the class of economies.

WHY DON'T YOU BUY SOME "BLACKO"?

If we could hand every one of our friends a bottle of Blacko and at the same time demonstrate to him how handy it is, we would have a hard time making it fast enough to supply the trade.

Blacko will make an old suit case, or hand bag look like new.

It will rejuvenate the seat covers of your automobile. It will make an old straw hat look like one that has just been purchased.

Blacko covers anything that a paint or a stain will take and leaves a rich, jet, glossy, black.

AROMATIC CASTOR OIL

The best way to take castor oil is to use Aromatic Castor Oil, which not only takes away the nasty taste, but leaves a pleasant taste after.

Aromatic Castor Oil is just as efficacious as the ordinary kind and costs no more.

If you have trouble getting your children to take castor oil, you might try this preparation.

PROTECT YOUR HOUSE AGAINST ANTS

Don't Let Them Get In While You Are Away

A number of our customers reported to us last year that upon returning from their vacations, they found their houses infested with ants.

This condition can be avoided by placing all eatables where the ants cannot reach them and by putting Argo Ant Poison in the garden. This poison is very attractive to ants and will ultimately destroy the queen ant, which is the source of the trouble.

Argo Ant Poison is placed in the special feeder cans which we furnish at 5c each, is not dangerous to animals or poultry.

These feeder cans contain sponges which should be thoroughly soaked with water and then saturated with the poison.

The cans should then be placed upon trees, fences, etc., about 6 inches from the ground.

If you follow our instructions in the use of Argo Ant Poison, you will find that you have no trouble with an invasion of this pest and that ultimately you will have no ants upon the premises unless they come from adjoining property that has not thus been protected.

Argo Ant Poison sells for 25c a bottle and it takes about 3 feeder cans for an ordinary garden.

We give one feeder can free with every 25c bottle.

FRESH BATTERIES FOR FLASHLIGHTS

Do not go away without some fresh batteries for your Eveready Flashlights.

We have these flashlights in all sizes, from the kind that the doctors use to carry in their vest pockets to big switchman's lanterns.

The batteries will run from 10 to 15 hours steady and will last a long time if properly used. Any camping party without a ready flash light is handicapped as far as lighting facilities are concerned.

Take along plenty of films. Return any unused rolls to us.

MAIL US YOUR KODAK FILMS

Let Us Develop Them As You Take Them

When you leave upon your vacation, bear in mind that you can send your Kodak films safely to us by mail. If you wish, we will return the prints to you in the same manner, or you can leave them here so that they will be ready upon the day you return from your outing.

Every film left with us to be developed and printed receives the individual attention of an expert and every effort is made to give you the clearest copy possible. In fact, the quality of our output is so superior that we are receiving rolls of films from all over the United States.

Many of these films come from big cities where there are many developing concerns but where evidently the people are unable to obtain work of Bowman quality.

Every print before leaving our studio is examined and if not just right, it is done over before sending to the store for delivery.

AUTO GOGGLES

In the old days before automobiles had windshields, every tourist was obliged to wear goggles, and you would think that with the coming of windshields the wearing of goggles would be discontinued.

The contrary seems to be the case, however, because today we sell more auto goggles than ever before and we carry a big stock as a consequence. We have them of all kinds, in all colors, to suit all styles of eyes, noses and faces.

FOOT COMFORT

If you expect to do much walking this summer, take along a couple of pairs of Bowman's Foot Comfort.

The immediate relief to be obtained from the use of this little can of white powder is hard to believe, and people who have not used it have no idea of the comfort in store for them if their feet bother them.

TAKE ALONG SOME BACKACHE PLASTERS

It would be a good idea for you to lay in a stock of backache plasters if you expect to be away.

We are not wishing you any bad luck, but a backache plaster is a mighty welcome article if you are so unfortunate as to strain your back or get into a draft and catch cold.

We have a backache plaster which we sell for 5c that is made of extra heavy felt and is much superior to the flimsy common kind that cost 1-3c and are about 1-10 as good.

Two or three of these splendid plasters ought to be included in the list of articles necessary to the safety and comfort of any vacation outing.

BATH CAPS ARE VERY INEXPENSIVE

That Is, From a Millinery Standpoint

It is a mystery to everyone connected with this store how manufacturers can afford to make such attractive bath caps at such small cost.

We have bath caps that sell for as low as 15c each and the very best we have in stock cost only $1.00 apiece.

We have some exceedingly beautiful caps for 50c and at prices that range all the way up to $1.

Many people forget this important feature of their bathing costumes and are either compelled to go without or to purchase one at a bathing resort at an excessive price.

Why would it not be a good idea to lay in a good supply before you start vacationing?

DO YOU SAVE YOURSELF?

Here is an interesting article for the men. It is called Violet Jet Hazel and comes in an attractive spritz bottle of unusually large size, at 25c.

If you are in the habit of shaving with violet Jet Hazel, you will find it as effective and much more pleasant to use on account of the attractive violet odor.

The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. S. He adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow thin before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles."

The American complexion is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax which causes the skin to shed its old, flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every draught has mercurized wax; once usually is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

TAYLOR'S STORY BRANDED AS LIE

That the assertions made by John C. Taylor, the assenting himself on a charge of criminal syndicalism charging the police with a conspiracy to persecute members of the Communist Labor Party, and others attacking the reputation of Inspector Fenner, Thompson, were made to poison the minds of the jury and had not been proved, was the declaration of Deputy District Attorney Earl Warren in closing his opening argument today.

Warren declared the questions propounded to Thompson as to whether he had taken a ring belonging to Taylor and $10 from the home of E. H. Smith during raids were nothing but a "red herring" and that the other attacks upon Thompson, to the effect that he had been driven out of Oakland in the past and had showed attentions to the wife of Edward R. Alverton, were placed in the same category by Warren.

A clash between Warren and Taylor was precipitated when Warren referred to the testimony of Thompson in which he said Taylor had told him he hoped the street car strike would fail so the strikers would join the One Big Union. Taylor declared this side remark of Thompson's had nothing to do with the record and that was why it had not been denied as Warren charged.

Warren declared it was in the record and Taylor affirmed it should not be as Judge Quinn had granted a motion to strike out such voluntary statements by Thompson. Judge Quinn said the record would be examined during recess and the remark stricken out if Taylor's contention was correct.

Warren then went on to exhortate Taylor for attempting to show that Socialist literature was the propaganda of the Communist Labor party when this party had split from the Socialists at the Chicago convention. He also pointed out that E. H. Smith had not been called to refute testimony by Alverton that in the presence of Smith, Taylor had outlined a bloody plot to seize the city hall, the offices and newspaper plants and to hold as hostages officials, two of whom would be killed for every Red that was shot.

Taylor will begin his closing argument late today.

COLLEGE SLAYING INQUIRY IS BEGUN

HANOVER, N. H., June 17.—Until the arrival of Albert H. Meads, lawyer, who is on his way here from Chicago to defend his son on a charge of murder, there will be no statement given out by the young man as to the events which led up to the shooting of Henry E. Maroney, also a student and fraternity member of Dartmouth College.

College authorities who have been running down stories that liquor running into the college was responsible for the affair, that a quarrel over a bottle of whiskey caused the shooting, and that the theft of a flask by Maroney led to pursuit and shooting, are confident now that the alteration was over a small debt, and had nothing to do with liquor.

Robert T. Meads, a few days ago a junior student planning to take a prominent part in the gay commencement week affairs of the campus, is in the county jail at Woodsville, awaiting the arrival of his father and the September term of the grand jury. Maroney's father and mother are here, the latter in a state of collapse.

The successful fight that Maroney, the dead student, had waged for more than a year against the liquor habit was revealed today by fellow students.

How American Women May Keep Faces Young

"The American smart woman ages early, far earlier than the English woman," says Christian Miller, F. C. S. He adds that our climate "so exhilarates that you over-exert yourselves and grow thin before you know it. That same exhilarating air dries the skin. The skin that lacks moisture grows pale and withered looking and soon forms wrinkles."

The American complexion is best treated by applying pure mercurized wax which causes the skin to shed its old, flake off in minute particles, a little each day, until the fresh, young skin beneath is wholly in evidence. Every draught has mercurized wax; once usually is sufficient. Spread on at night like cold cream, washing it off next morning.

It is not necessary to use a painful process to remove hairy growths, for with a little delicate handy you can keep the skin finely (free from these beauty destroyers. To remove hairy, make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water. Spread this on the hairy surface and in about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairy growths are gone. To guard against reappearance, be careful to get real delatone. Advertisement.

POISON OAK OR IVY NO LONGER TO BE DREADED

Anyone who has ever experienced oak or ivy poisoning will be grateful to know that the extremely painful and irritating annoyance need not be feared, or longer remain troublesome. The pain, itching, fever and irritation disappear almost like magic with a few applications of Santiseptic Lotion, and the eruptions and redness of the skin soon follow. Timely use of Santiseptic will even prevent the poisoning in many cases.

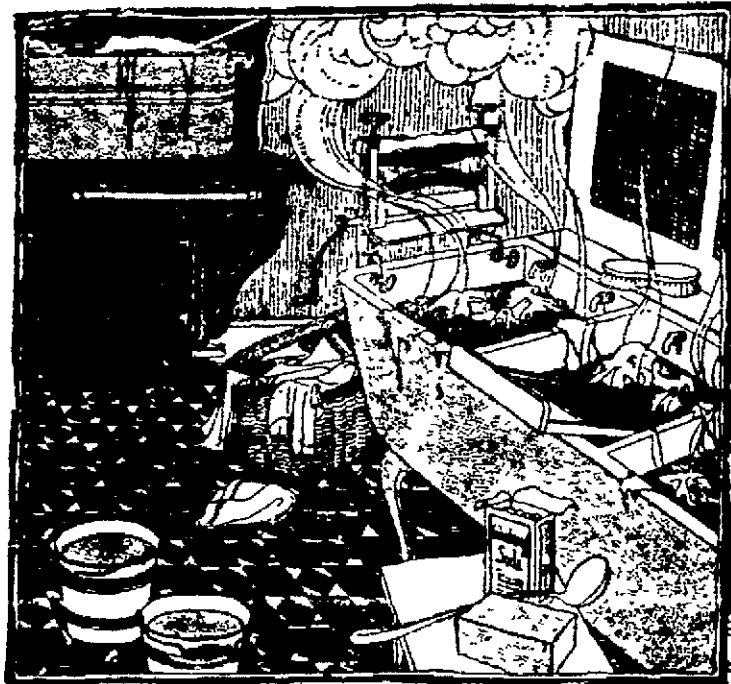

"Santiseptic Lotion is the greatest remedy on earth for poison oak," says Carl Larson of Canyonville, Ore. "I have had it in all forms—on my face, arms and body. Nothing gave me relief until I tried Santiseptic. I would not now be without Santiseptic in my home."

Mr. Larson's experience is but typical of thousands of others who have had the misfortune to become infected with poison ivy. Santiseptic also has been used with success against other skin irritations, such as sunburn, windburn, chafing, fever and cold sores, flea and other insect bites. It is a remarkable soothing and healing lotion. Men use it after shaving and women for the complexion and baby's skin.

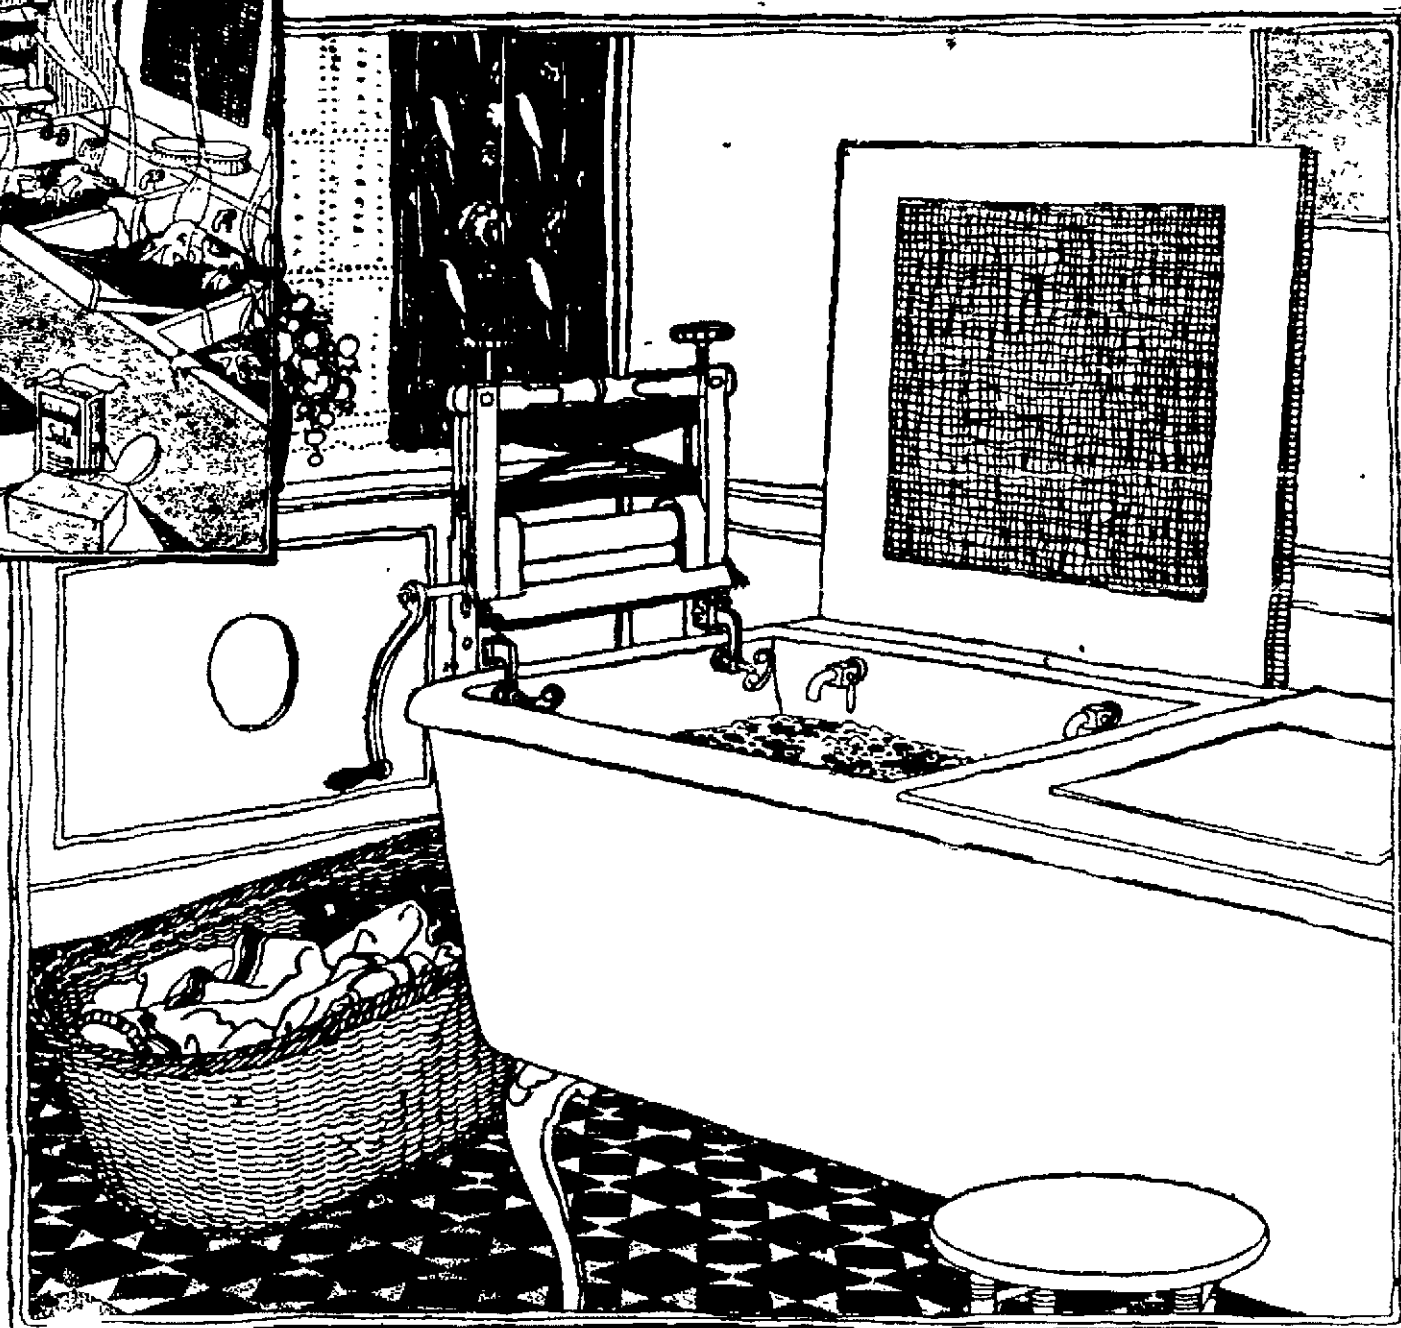

Santiseptic is easily procured at most drug stores. If your druggist cannot supply it, send 50 cents, with his name to the Ebermann Laboratories, Portland, Ore., for a full-sized bottle, 10c, postpaid. Advertisement.

The old way of laundering meant a cluttered, steaming-hot kitchen—a dozen different utensils were used

In the modern way of laundering—with Rinso—you just SOAK your clothes clean. The Rinso way means an orderly, cool kitchen—no utensils but the wringer and a basket

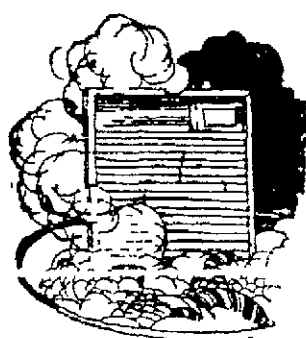

No more of this!

One day in every week—one-seventh of a lifetime—women used to spend on washday tasks like this! Rinso washes your clothes WITHOUT RUBBING

The Modern Way of Washing

You just soak your clothes clean instead of the old rubbing and boiling

Your clothes wore out this metal washboard—what did it do to your CLOTHES?

YOU know the old way of washing well enough. The cluttered, messy kitchen. The long standing over the steaming boiler. The rubbing, rubbing of your clothes on the washboard—rubbing that frayed the edges of collars and cuffs, and faded the color out in specially hard-rubbed spots.

Next Monday, try the modern way of washing!

Just soak your clothes clean! Soak them with the wonderful new form of soap for the family washing—Rinso, the new soap product, in fine granules.

Different from anything ever before produced

Rinso is different from anything you have ever used before.

There is no solid soap to stick to the fabric—there are no harsh cleansing agents in it. Your clothes soak as safely in Rinso suds as in water alone.

Its fine granules are so rich in cleansing value, they loosen every bit of dirt as the clothes are soaking.

Makes clothes last twice as long

You rinse the clothes in the morning, and all the loosened dirt is gone. Only a few badly soiled spots will need a light rubbing between your hands.

All the rubbing of cake soap on your clothes is saved, all the cruel rubbing on the washboard.

You need never boil your clothes, except occasionally, if you wish to sterilize. For Rinso cleans as perfectly in cold water as in hot!

Saved from all this hard treatment, your clothes actually last twice as long!

Try it on the hardest things to wash

Give Rinso just one trial—a hard trial. Try it on kitchen aprons, that have so many hard-to-get-out things spilled on them. Try it on dish towels, that you think now you have to boil clean. Try it on your small boy's suits, with the dirt just ground in.

You will be amazed at the simplicity of it—at the ease—at the clothes so clean and white, without all the old-fashioned work.

You simply cannot believe how wonderful Rinso is until you have used it week after week, and seen how beautifully white your clothes keep. Until you have seen how much longer they wear, and keep their colors.

Start using Rinso this week

Begin with your very next week's washing to launder clothes the modern way.

See what a simple matter the weekly washing becomes when you follow the easy directions on the Rinso package.

Get Rinso from your grocer. One package will do your whole week's washing.—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux.)

No more of this!

No more hours of boiling over a steaming boiler. Rinso washes your clothes WITHOUT BOILING

Rinso is not a "washing powder"

The fine granules of Rinso look much like a "washing powder," but—make this test. Use a heaping teaspoonful to a glass of boiling water

"WASHING POWDER"—high in harsh chemicals—low in soap

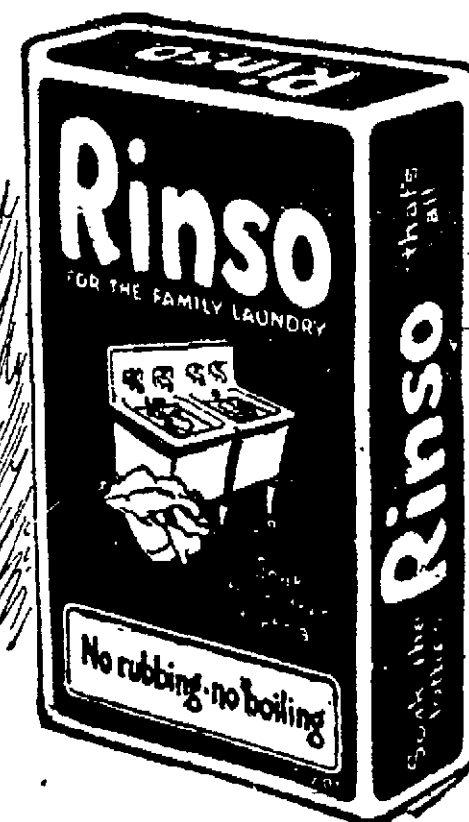

RINSO—absolutely harmless—so rich in soap it "jells"

KIDNAPER MULCTS FATHER OF BABY

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
LEADED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., June 17.—George H. Coughlin, father of Blakey Coughlin, who was kidnapped on the morning of June 2 today stands swindled of $12,000, with his child still missing, according to a sensational story which Coughlin told Chief of Police Eller today. Coughlin offered to corroborate his statement by producing a friend who accompanied him to the spot where the money was placed and from which it afterwards was found to have disappeared.

The chronology of the manner in which the $12,000 disappeared reads like a weird and improbable story. Nevertheless, the police declare they believe the father's tale and are prepared now to search for a man characterized as "the meanest swindler with whom they have ever had to deal."

"THE CRANK" DOUBLES DEMAND FOR RANSOM

With the revelation that the $12,000 has gone came additional facts made public for the first time by a friend of the father. He said that at first the supposed abductor of the baby demanded by letter $6000 for the safe return of Baby Coughlin. Coughlin declared he replied by demanding $12,000. He said that the picture as a guarantee the anonymous writer was the kidnaper. Two days later a man telephoned himself "The Crank" told Coughlin over the telephone that since he had seen fit to spurn his first offer the price for the child's return had doubled and that $12,000 was placed in a hole which "The Crank" designated.

MONEY PAID, BUT VIGIL IS FRUITLESS

In compliance with these instructions Coughlin, accompanied by a friend, drove to the point described, left the currency demanded and returned home. The child was to have been returned the following (Tuesday) afternoon. However, at the time set, no child put in an appearance. Discouraged and disheartened after a twenty-four-hour vigil, and realizing he had paid a victim of a swindle, Coughlin drove to Chief of Police Eller's office and told his story.

U.S. Agents Watch "Lil Arthur" at Line

MEXICALI, Mex. June 17.—Deportation of Jack Johnson, former world's heavy weight champion, who is now a fugitive from the United States is a matter now for the Tia Juana police according to official information made public here today. Johnson's name is said to be included among a list of "undesirables" to be banished from Mexico.

It was said that this actual eviction has been put up to the Tia Juana police for execution unless the big Negro surrenders voluntarily to United States authorities within the thirty-day period which he himself prescribed in his promise to return to the States.

Meanwhile, according to reports here, federal agents of the United States Immigration service are still on watch at the international line for the crossing of Johnson.

Laundry Worker to Fight for Millions

LOS ANGELES June 17.—A subpoena to appear as a witness in an action brought by Louis A. Raffio, a Los Angeles laundry foreman, to obtain a share of his father's $3,000,000 estate was forwarded to New York city today to be served on Miss Millie Raffio, sister of the plaintiff.

Raffio charges that he was cut off under his father will which gave the bulk of the estate to his sister. He is suing the alien property custodian to prevent delivery of the estate which is said to consist largely of New York realty to his sister. The suit is brought in federal court here.

S.F. Capitalists Buy Seattle Tideflats

SEATTLE, June 17.—San Francisco capitalists whose names will be made public in about ten days have taken heavy interests in the reorganized East Waterway Dock and Warehouse Company of Seattle, which has bought twenty acres of tideflats for $800,000 from the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation Company. It was announced here today. The dock and warehouse concern was a subsidiary of the Rogers Brown company, importers of Oriental oils and other products, which recently went into a receivers hands.

Millionaire Writer Gets License to Wed

NEW YORK, June 17.—Hobart Chatfield, Taylor, millionaire writer and publisher of Chicago and Santa Barbara, and Mrs. Estelle Barbour Stillman, of 33 West Fifty-first street, New York, have obtained a marriage license. It was learned today. They are to be married June 23. Taylor is 55 years old. Mrs. Stillman is a widow and her age is 45.

Chicago Has Fifth Labor War Killing

CHICAGO, June 17.—Patrick Ryan, well known police character, was shot and killed in front of his home here today. The murdered escaped. Ryan, well known in labor circles is the fifth victim this year in local labor troubles here.

CIDER INDUSTRY NOT HELPED, BUT HURT BY DRY LAW

SPOKANE, Wash., June 17.—Dangers that the manufacture of cider, one of the principal by-products processes of the fruit industry in the Pacific northwest, may suffer practical extermination through the very factor that promised to give it national importance—prohibition—is seen by C. H. Fellberg, a cider manufacturer of this city.

State laws forbidding alcohol in cider, Fellberg says, render it almost impossible for the manufacturer and the dealer to stay within legal limits and place them at the mercy of state and city officials. Within only a few days after its manufacture, he declared, fermentation progresses far enough to make the alcohol content greater than the one-half of one per cent permitted by the federal law.

Many thousands of tons of apples that are useless for other purposes are used for the manufacture of cider every year in this city alone, Fellberg declared. If these apples were thrown on the market he said, they would bring down the price of higher grade apples, with consequent damage to the industry.

LEAGUE IS FARGE, SAY LONDONERS

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEADED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, June 17.—Sharp criticism of the decision reached by the council of the league of nations to postpone action on the pleas of Persia for defense against the Bolsheviks is expressed in some quarters here and one section of the press openly attacks the council for its action. Some of those present at the meeting of the council, it is declared, were given a bad impression, and it is understood Prince Mirza Firouz, Persian foreign minister, though outwardly acquiescing, was considerably disappointed.

The Times heads its editorial on the subject "A Pompous Farce," and calls yesterday's proceedings "humiliating." "This body (the council) was pledged to the furtherance of open diplomacy," complains the Daily News, "but throws no light on the text of the correspondence which has passed between the Persian and Soviet governments and certain conditions alleged to have been imposed. This is 'one way' of killing the league."

A Copenhagen despatch to the Herald refers to the unpublished correspondence between Persia and Soviet Russia and complains that the latter, claims Persia, has not answered the Soviet government's protest against what it calls Persia's violations of international law.

HURT IN SHAMBO

SAN JOSE, June 17.—Mrs. William Griffith, 1500 Benton street, Santa Clara, was thrown through the windshield of the automobile she was driving when it hit a tree in Franklin and Munroe streets. She received a broken neck and several cuts on her head and body. She was taken to O'Connor's Sanitarium.

FORCED TO LEAVE SO, SEA ISLANDS

I only wish that I had run across Tania fifteen years ago for I would have been saved that many years of suffering, said John H. Morgan, a well known employee of the Moore Ship Building Company living at 932 Seventh Street, Oakland, California, on his stomach was in such a awful fix, continued Mr. Morgan, that if I ate the least bit of breakfast or even drank a glass of water in a few minutes I became so nauseated that I couldn't keep it on my stomach. Gas formed on my stomach and kept me in distress for hours after eating, and I also suffered terribly from constipation. My sleep was always restless and broken and in the morning I would get up feeling just miserable. About two years ago I got a fine position in the South Sea Islands and went down there but muscular rheumatism set in and my condition became so much worse that I had to quit my work and come back. Very much discouraged I traveled a great deal and my condition was so bad that I just took every kind of medicine I heard of, but none of them did me any good.

I read about Tania and decided to give it a trial too, and I want to say right now it certainly has done the work for me. I'm just now on my fourth bottle and am eating three big meals every day and enjoying every mouthful. My food is just what I need and my food is just what I need. I am certainly glad that I ran across Tania, and I want to give this statement in hopes that it will help someone else who suffers like I did.

Tania is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores—Advertisement

“ F. & C. $35 and $40 Clothes with $70 and $80 Clothing elsewhere

To every man who still hasn't discovered F. & C. guaranteed garments at $25 to $40---we put this advice. Make a frank comparison. See how our own wholesale tailor shops, coast-to-coast volume of business, our upstairs overhead economy and our plain, sun-light stores have kept prices at common-sense levels. And find out for yourself what a big difference in VALUE our policy of 56c-average-profit-per-garment really makes!

After that, for the biggest clothing value in Oakland, you'll

TRADE UPSTAIRS & SAVE $10

--that's our slogan, but $15 or $20 is usually your saving!

Come up and shake hands with the TRUTH about clothing values here in our UPSTAIRS STORE

THINK THIS OVER!

What are so-called "Reduction Sales" but an out-and-out confession that prices were inflated? See through the sham!

We've never held a "Sale"---and we've never lowered prices---because F. & C. prices ($25 to $40) are always LOWER than the lowest "Clearance" Sales!

ANOTHER ALLIANCE PROPOSED

Two different versions of the pending negotiations for a renewal of the alliance between Great Britain and Japan have been given to the public by obviously official sanction. They differ in their meaning and both are apparently designed to cover up the real facts and are therefore at least partially incorrect.

The Pall Mall Gazette of London says that the question of the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance has not yet reached the stage in which its consideration by the British cabinet has become imperative. Premier Lloyd George, says this newspaper, favors utilizing this occasion of renewal to "help forward the principle of disarmament." Efforts will be made in the next few weeks, it is hinted, to solve the difficulties between the United States and Japan, after which the possibility of widening the scope of the treaty to include the United States will be much less remote than it appears today.

From Tokyo comes the other version. The Yomiuri Shimbun announced in its inspired columns that the Japanese cabinet has decided to open negotiations for a revision of the alliance, which Great Britain is said to be willing to maintain with modifications. Though some of the clauses will be changed to harmonize with the League of Nations this newspaper believes there will be no alterations with regard to safeguarding the peace of Eastern Asia and India, the integrity of China and the maintenance of the respective rights and special interests of Japan and Great Britain in the Far East.

Thus London plainly desires to give the impression that the principal reason Great Britain may desire a renewal of the alliance is to further the program of disarmament, while Tokyo bases its desire upon ambitions the serving of which will hardly permit of a reduction of armament in the Far East.

When Japan's statesmen and officials speak of maintaining the integrity of China and preserving the respective rights and special interests of Japan and Great Britain in the Far East they utter an anachronism. China's integrity means easy opportunity for Japanese encroachment and penetration in Chinese territory to further Japan's commercial and political interests. Maintenance of the special interests of Great Britain and Japan in the Far East means maintenance of unwarranted encroachment of both countries upon Chinese sovereignty. In the case of one it is South Manchuria, Mongolia and Shantung; in the other it is Wei-hai-wei, Mongolia and Tibet.

The United States should have nothing to do with the Anglo-Japanese alliance. It should reject all overtures for any kind of an alliance with Japan and European powers regarding the Pacific area. Its last experience in contract-making with Japan, the Lansing-Ishii agreement, should be a caution against all future unnecessary undertakings.

THE BERGDOLL CASE

Grover Bergdoll, the draft evader, who escaped three weeks ago from a United States military prison where he was serving a merited five-year sentence for his offense, is still at large. The War Department and the Department of Justice have so far offered no excuse for not recapturing him. An investigation in Congress of the circumstances of his escape is promised and in time the country may know the exact extent of the government's dereliction in permitting this notorious slacker of great wealth to escape.

The Bergdoll case has several curious aspects. It took the government two years to apprehend him after he had escaped the officers charged with the enforcement of the draft registration act. Finally he was tried and found guilty. Then after a few weeks in prison, Adjutant General Peter C. Harris at Governor's Island granted Bergdoll's release in charge of two enlisted men that he might go look for a buried fortune. In defense of this procedure it is explained that Bergdoll pledged his word that he would not escape from his guard.

Think of it! The War Department, or any officer of it, accepting the word of honor of a draft dodger. And in such fanciful circumstances as those surrounding a scheme to dig up $75,000 which the slacker claimed he had hidden.

There is no such thing as honor in a slacker, and the man who assumed there was ought to be court-martialed and cashiered from the United States army.

The army did some creditable things during the war. It fought gallantly at Chateau Thierry, at Blanc Mont, at St. Mihiel and in the Argonne. Then after the war was over it accepted the word of honor of a convicted draft evader who had never donned a uniform. Perhaps there were other "honorable" acts committed by the military establishment during the last four years, but putting faith in Bergdoll is entitled to first prize and the confession of such stupidity should be awarded second prize.

"STUBSIDIZED CAMPAIGNS"

Two months ago Mr. Edward T. Meredith was appointed Secretary of Agriculture. Immediately he began to deliver lengthy and carefully prepared speeches. These contained many exaggerated statements as to past performances of the Department of Agriculture, but more of promises for the future and fatuous commonplaces of appreciation for the great essential position the farmers occupy in the life of the country.

These speeches by Mr. Meredith were printed and distributed in the official bulletin of the department; printed in full to the consumption of several pages of excellent white paper. Under competent editing the addresses could have been reduced ninety percent of their length and still have contained all the important facts regarding agriculture and business which it was appropriate for the Department of Agriculture to distribute.

Now the purpose of this profligate use of government white paper and black ink, this generous devotion of space to the verbatim speeches of Secretary Meredith, is clear. Mr. Meredith is a candidate for the presidential nomination of the Democratic party. His name will be presented to the national convention in San Francisco. The mails of the last few days have been flooded with Meredith's propaganda, excerpts from the government publications which contain his fulsome speeches in praise of the farmer.

In this there is one undeniable confirmation of the charges that the Democratic administration has employed its official position and government funds to promote the political purposes of members of the administration. There is no getting around the charge. The evidence is being presented every day and all those who read may comprehend it. Rampant effrontery, unblushing impudence, rides with the administration office holders.

Frank J. Polk, councillor of the State Department, and Breckinridge Long, Assistant Secretary of State, have tendered their resignations and departed from the administration to which they have given long and not unimportant service. They follow as closely as political propriety would seem to admit the resignation of former Secretary of State Lansing and of Hon. Henry P. Fletcher, ambassador to Mexico. Whether ill health, the demands of private business interests, or just plain dissatisfaction, is the cause of quitting the ship of State, they are out. At the same time Colonel Edward H. House, the unofficial representative of the President in so many important public matters during the last six years, has left the country for Europe. He goes this time on personal affairs. Many new personages are being given official positions, but nearly all of them must hearken to the same call that former Senator James Hamilton Lewis recommended to the gentlemen of Peoria, Illinois, when the latter was asked to accept the post of ambassador to Russia—the honor it will hold for their children.

The prediction of war days that military titles would be conspicuous at future political gatherings was partially borne out at Chicago. There were General Charles G. Duval, General W. W. Atterbury, General T. Coleman DuPont, Colonel William Boyce Thompson and Colonel William Cooper Proctor. But the wearers of these titles are old hands in politics. Quite aside from this list as he deserves to be placed, was Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who saw actual fighting in France and merited his title.

GRAIN HARVEST OF 1920

The new estimate just given out by the Department of Agriculture regarding the prospects of the wheat crop for 1920 is based on conditions existing on June 1 compared with those that were originally anticipated. The total for the year will, it is believed, be in the neighborhood of 741,000,000 bushels. That figure is greatly under the 1919 crop of 800,000,000 bushels, but it should be remembered that the crop of 1919 established a record. In 1914-1915, this year's yield will show a diminution of only 1 percent and those five years were fat ones and included the three largest crops in the history of the United States, with the sole exception of the record breaker of 1919. In addition there are 41,072,000 acres planted to oats and 7,457,000 to barley.

It appears therefore that on the whole we shall not be too badly off, so far as grain crops are concerned, always provided that the harvesting operations can be properly and adequately performed. There, however, is just the rub, for a lamentable shortage of farm labor exists, and grain, when it ripens, has to be handled not only dexterously, but also expeditiously. In order to make the most of the particular feature of the case was accentuated by the document presented at the White House on Tuesday on behalf of a number of farm organizations. The memorial, in drawing the President's attention to "the critical situation existing on the farm and the resulting menace to the nation's food supply," pointed out that the scarcity of labor had in some sections cut production down by fully one-third. The difficulty therefore will be to harvest the crop in time. To effect this it is essential to get help to the points where it will be most needed. It is a hard problem, but surely it is not insurmountable. The Department of Agriculture will render a real service alike to the farmers and the nation if it tackles it energetically and solves it promptly and efficiently.—Washington Post.

NOTES and COMMENT

Considering how the delegates and others who attended the Republican national convention sweltered it should be important to those who will be on hand to assist at the Democratic national convention to know that they will not have to undergo such caloric. While it cannot be guaranteed that delegates will not get hot over some of the proceedings, it can be assured that the Fahrenheit temperature will be entirely endurable.

The public is with General Wood and his generous backers in the attack made upon them by Nicholas Murray Butler. Lots of things may be said of a man contending for office honors while the struggle is pending. It is regarded as more or less legitimate tactics, but to lay charges against an aspirant after he is defeated is so unnecessary that it jars the American spirit of fair play.

That shipping of forbidden liquors as "fertilizer" was not altogether a deception. Instances are very familiar where booze has made a well-known feature blossom as the rose.

Champions figure variously. On the same day that a jury acquits Jack Dempsey of slacking an authority in Mexico issues an order that leaves Jack Johnson practically without a country.

New York has a cat question that amounts to something different from results from the well-known habit of its residents shutting up their houses during the summer and not making provision for tabby, which thereby strays and becomes a nuisance. The cat may come back if she survives, but in the meantime her owner lays himself open to a charge of cruelty.

Vice-President Marshall has arrived in San Francisco and says he is not a candidate. That is the way some others have put it. Mr. Hoover kept saying it so persistently that he seems to have been taken at his word.

A Hindu who murdered another Hindu in Sacramento was sentenced to imprisonment. Which entails a burden that is considerably less than profitless shunting such an undesirable back whence he came would be the ideal solution of such a problem.

While a number are striving for the Presidency of the United States, the man who has been selected to resign on account of inharmony in his cabinet. Might take a bunch from our President on the management of cabinets. When a cabinet officer fails to perform satisfactorily he gets what Lansing got.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Clifford Cantlay and John Forbes motored to Santa Barbara Monday to accompany Captain Vasquez to the islands on a seal hunting expedition. On arriving at the islands the party found the sea rough, so decided to lay over until the next day. Wednesday, while making preparation for the day, Captain Vasquez died of heart trouble, with no warning symptoms. The party before evening and the captain's assistant not being familiar with the operation of the boat, they waited until Thursday morning. They had some thrilling adventures when the motor went dead while bucking high seas, and only by throwing out the nets on the end of a long rope were they able to keep the boat facing the waves.—Lompoc Review.

A cat census has been taken aboard the superdreadnaught Mississippi at Los Angeles harbor, with the result that the largest cat was found to bear the smallest name and the smallest cat the longest. The big cat with the smallest name is "Flop," and the little cat with the large name is "Percia Deadendona De." Other cats are called "Segufus," "Sausalito," "Seattle," "Macella," and "Baltimore City."—Fresno Republican.

TACNA AND ARICA

Tacna and Arica! The words are story has been one of controversy, far becoming as inseparable as the Gold Dust Twins, the Dolly Sisters or Mutt and Jeff.

"The regions form a territorial bone of contention among Chile, Peru and Bolivia," says a bulletin of the National Geographic Society.

"The province of Tacna, composed of the departments of Tacna and Arica is shown on maps made in Chile as the northernmost province of that country, and on maps made in Peru as the southernmost province of Peru bordered on the north by the Rio Sama river and on the east by Bolivia. Its broad uplands are rich in nitrate, and on the bay of Arica, at the terminus of one railroad leading to La Paz and the interior of Bolivia, and another running to ports to the south, the delightful city of Arica is situated, giving the possessor of the territory a great advantage in South America.

American affairs from both political and commercial standpoints. Here is the ample reason why these two South American republics want it, and why Bolivia hopes that, in the adjustment, she will have an outlet to the sea accorded her.

"The trouble over this region arose originally from the fact that, in the days of the early Spanish settlers, the country was so vast that a few hundred square miles more or less made no difference in the affairs of a colony, and when the colonies organized themselves into republics, they still were too busy with their internal problems to bother about where their boundaries began and where they ended. This condition was true in the case of Peru, Chile and Bolivia, but only of the other South American republics, as indicated by the numerous boundary questions which have been in dispute during the last decade.

"So matters drifted until the middle of the nineteenth century when guano and nitrate were discovered in this formerly ignored region. The guano alone was then hastily estimated as worth twenty millions of dollars, not to mention the nitrate. What friends could be expected to remain friendly with such a mountain of dollars between them? Since that time, the Peru-Chile-Bolivia

A COMMITTEE COMMITTED Why is a fair price committee? The query is pertinent following the boosting of the price of granulated sugar at New Orleans to 25 cents the pound. WORLD-WRACKING IDEAS Now that President Wilson's criticism of the operations of the British navy have been made public, we realize the fact that Americans were accused of being German sympathizers merely because they voiced the opinions of the President of the United States.—Florida Times-Union.

THE JESTER

An Extensive Repertoire.

There are still a few of the old-time stock companies touring round the smaller towns. One of these had at least twenty plays on its list. Recently it was giving a show in a village hall. The performance was pretty bad, but the villagers found it quite interesting till, at the great climax in the third act, the hero forgot his part. After an embarrassing silence of about two minutes he said: "What's the line?"

"What's the play?" the prompter hissed back from his little box as he grabbed a pile of two or three dozen books and began to run through them feverishly.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Democrat.

SHORT CIRCUIT, FIRE, GASOLINE THREATEN 'ROW'

A live electric wire, shorted in a pool of gasoline on the floor of the National and Liberty Service Garage at Twenty-fourth and Webster streets this morning, caused an explosion which for a few minutes threatened to become a conflagration in the automobile district. The fire was put out before the arrival of several fire trucks and a fire engine.

Fire which broke out shortly before 1 o'clock this morning burned the garage and automobile in the rear of the house of J. C. Massden of 5227 Bond street, inflicting damages amounting to $1500. Members of the family said there was no explosion and that the fire had been discovered by neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. Massden were the only persons in the house at the time.

BERKELEY, June 17.—Five stores at Telegraph avenue and Dwight way were damaged by fire at 1:20 o'clock this morning. The blaze starting in a pile of rubbish in the basement of a clothing establishment owned by J. M. McDaniel, 2442 Telegraph avenue.

Firemen fighting the blaze were forced to don oxygen helmets before they could enter the smoke-filled building. McDaniel's store was the only one damaged by fire, the others suffering losses from smoke being C. C. Holmes, grocer, 2440 Telegraph; L. S. Wetlund, hardware, 2414 Telegraph; American Pharmacy, corner Dwight and Telegraph.

FUNNY LETTER FROM HUSBAND GAINS DIVORCE

"Hotel-de-Sleep, Chicago, Ill.
"Morning salutations fair one. I hope you enjoyed your gallop. I am here safe and sound enjoying the salubrious climes of ye windy city. Wealth have I none, but speed have I much. Aloha.

"Killingly funny.
"FREDERICK THE WANDERER."
This is the facetious letter written by Frederick G. Ross, a moving picture actor, which today won a divorce for Mrs. Matilda Ross, formerly of 2265 Buena Vista avenue, Alameda, and now residing in Sedona, Arizona, on the grounds of wilful desertion. The decree giving Mrs. Ross custody of a daughter aged 2 was granted by Judge J. J. Trabucco.

Mrs. Ross declared she received the letter two weeks after her husband had left their home in Los Angeles, declaring that he was going to get a position in the "movies" and would return at night to pay the rent.

Mrs. Ross told the Court she had not seen or heard from her husband since, but that she was not sorry as her husband had never provided for her beyond paying the rent.

Petition for Water Denied By Company

The East Bay Water Company announced this morning that a petition of citizens of the Bay View district in East Oakland asking that East Bay water service be extended to cover this area, between Sixty-third and Sixty-seventh avenues, had been denied on the ground that the area is being supplied by another public utility corporation, the Bay View Water company.

Charles A. Wilhelm of the East Bay company, said the water shortage in this district has been overcome by selling East Bay water to the Bay View concern.

Wilhelm advised the petitioners to take the matter directly to the Railroad Commission.

WAREHOUSE TIME EXTENSION ASKED

Application for an extension of the time within which they must complete the first warehouse on their property under their lease was filed before the City Council this morning by the Parr Terminal company. Expressions of the commissioners indicated that the extension of thirty days asked for was favorably taken.

The petition was referred to the department of public works with the suggestion that an early report be given, and Commissioner Soderberg announced that he would bring in his recommendation to the council next Monday.

Under the lease-terms the warehouse must be completed by July 11. According to the statement to the council from Frederick Parr, head of the company, delay has been experienced, and while the building could be finished within the time required, an extension is asked so the company could be certain of being within the legal time.

Commissioner Morse informed the council that he had recently made an inspection of the properties and was favorably impressed with the progress made.

Appeal Is Made to Restore Lieut. Walden

An appeal to the board of trustees of the Firemen's Relief and Pension Fund to rescind a resolution passed May 19, temporarily retiring Lieutenant L. L. Walden on half pay, and for the passage of the same resolution effective two months prior, was made to the board today by Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead. According to Whitehead, Lieutenant Walden was taken from the pay roll March 19, his period of half pay expiring on that date, and unless the board's ruling is changed the officer will be without compensation for the period from March 19 to May 19. The request will be considered at the next meeting of the board.

Miss Sallie Havens Becomes Bride of Thomas J. Grier, Jr.

MRS. THOMAS JOHNSON GRIER JR., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens of Piedmont, at whose nuptials last evening the smart set from both sides of the bay assembled at the East Indian home of Mrs. Frank C. Havens. Mrs. Grier, as Sally Havens, has been rated one of the beauties of the Eastbay. Her marriage preceded her "coming out."—E. Martin Webb photo.

Eastbay Society Favorite and Los Angeles Man United at Pretty Wedding

Wildwood, the beautiful estate of Mrs. Frank C. Havens in Piedmont was the scene last evening of one of the smartest affairs of the season when Miss Sally Havens, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wickham Havens, plighted her troth to Thomas Johnson Grier Jr., of Los Angeles.

Some three hundred guests from all parts of the state and bay section were present at the ceremony and dinner dance which followed.

The beautiful home, Indian in setting—abounded with flowers. Great baskets and oriental jardinières were filled with quantities of delphinium and snap dragons in the pastel shades. In the spacious drawing room at one end of which was an improvised altar draped in gold brocade with large jardinières of roses at either end—the nuptial vows were exchanged.

There were soft lighting effects adding to the effectiveness of the scene. Throughout the lower floor, flowering trees of American Beauty roses were used in floral appointments.

Rev. Alexander Allen of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiated. Leading the bridal procession at 7:30 o'clock were the two little daughters of Mrs. Havens, Patricia and Jane. In dainty frocks of ruffled green organdie, each carrying a golden basket of spring blossoms. Then followed the six bridesmaids: Miss Sally Long and Miss Lorna Williamson in turquoise blue satin; Miss Marjorie Spring and Miss Mary Hillman of Los Angeles, in peach-toned satin; and the Misses Mary Kennedy and Evangeline Grier of Los Angeles, in orchid satin. All were made similarly with Elizabethan collars and bouffant skirt effects. They carried armfuls of spring blossoms to harmonize with their costumes.

Miss Louise Howard, betrothed of Harold Buquet, was the guest of honor a few days ago at a luncheon given by Miss Jessie Knowles. Sunday evening next, Miss Knowles will give a summer party for Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kauffman (Nancy Lane) who are here from the East.

Pies, Ham, Chickens Lost to Pickaninnies

Two pickaninnies, aged 11 and 13, George Andrew Jackson and Washington Jones, were arrested in the back yard of Mrs. S. C. Downs, 6403 Trenor street last night by Patrolman Steffens as they were raiding the hen roost and refrigerator.

Three pies, a layer cake, a portion of ham and some chickens had been transferred to a dilapidated horse and wagon outfit which was later identified as having been stolen from W. Evans, 2039 N. Fourteenth street.

The wedding supper was served in the billiard room and on the Indian porch, with a vista of the gardens of the estate. The bride's table was exquisite in its appointments of spring flowers. Later there was dancing in the ball room.

The bride—a graduate of Miss Ransom's and the Sacred Heart Convent of Menlo Park, has been one of the most extensively feted of the debutantes since the announcement of her betrothal a few months ago.

Grier comes from a representative family of the Angel City. The future home of the couple will be in the bay region upon their return from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Clarence Loran Johnston was hostess today at luncheon at her home prior to the departure of many of her friends to the country for the summer months.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING AT GRIER GABLES

Another important wedding of the week is that of Miss Alice Hastings and Joseph Platt Cooke Jr., of Honolulu, the ceremony taking place at 6 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McKinney Alexander at Grier Gables, Piedmont. Only relatives are to be present at the supper which will be served in the Tennis Court adjoining.

Rev. W. Palmer, former pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, who arrived yesterday from the islands, will officiate. Rev. Palmer is en route east.

The bride is from a well known Honolulu family and a cousin of Mrs. Wallace Alexander.

This afternoon under the auspices of the Piedmont section of the mystery club of the West Oakland Home, a Hawaiian afternoon is being held at the home of Mrs. A. Moore and Mrs. James Tallman of Crocker Highlands. Since the homes adjoin one another a large number were accommodated. Bridge and out door amusements have been planned for the entertainment of the guests, together with an Hawaiian orchestra.

Miss Elva Ghirardelli will entertain tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Marian Rodolph McCandless, fiancée of Louis Ghirardelli Jr.

PRETTY AFFAIR FOR BRIDE-ELECT

At her home in Berkeley Miss Agnes Horton is entertaining friends this afternoon in honor of Miss Kathryn Hutchinson, bride-elect. A score of the younger girls were guests. Miss Marian Meyers will entertain Saturday for Miss Hutchinson.

Miss Louise Howard, betrothed of Harold Buquet, was the guest of honor a few days ago at a luncheon given by Miss Jessie Knowles. Sunday evening next, Miss Knowles will give a summer party for Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kauffman (Nancy Lane) who are here from the East.

DOPE SLEUTHS
OPERATED DEN,
PEDDLER SAYS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—Statements that inspectors Emil Corbett and John L. De Vries of the State Board of Pharmacy had seized a drug den at 1716 Webster street, where they hid narcotics taken from arrested addicts and "peddlers" made at the preliminary hearing of Sam Morien, 1109 Scott street, by Charles Krull, last night, before Police Judge Henry M. Owens are being probed by the grand jury.

Morien's preliminary hearing on the "drug" charge was turned by Deputy District Attorney Isidore Golden into a legal battle with Attorney G. P. Blankenberg, prosecutor for the State Pharmacy Board and with attorneys for De Vries and Corbett, when testimony implicating the pharmacy inspectors was brought out. Blankenberg declared that Golden was prosecuting the state officers and Golden declared that the pharmacy attorney could no longer be associated with him in the conduct of the case.

The charges hinge upon the raid on Morien's "dope house" at 1335 Ellis street by De Vries, Corbett and a woman inspector, Mrs. Alice Anderson. Krull drove the party. After reaching Morien's home at 1109 Scott street from a window across the street, the trio trailed him to the Ellis street place. Mrs. Anderson's testimony here became confused as she testified that Morien took a bundle from the house and left on a street car, and later denied that he had left the house. Corbett went to Morien's home, forced him to give him the keys to the Ellis street place and raided it. Morien charges that Corbett and De Vries took the loot to their Webster street apartment and then demanded $400 from him to release it. Krull testified also that he drove the inspectors to the alleged "drug den." Both inspectors deny that they ever took any drugs to Webster street.

Newman Watchman
Convicted of Killing

MODESTO, June 17.—Edward J. Newcome, former night watchman at Newman, near here, was found guilty of manslaughter in two hours by a jury in the superior court here yesterday, following trial on a charge of murdering Felix Van Vleet, Newman house number, whom he shot and killed while trying to place Van Vleet under arrest on a charge of drunkenness on the night of November 25, 1919. Newcome will be sentenced Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Draymen Talk Open Shop;
Union Men Say It Can't Go

The question of whether the draymen's association will declare an open shop in an effort to combat the teamsters' strike for a $1 a day wage increase will be discussed at a meeting of the organization tonight. When the men walked out three days ago it was stated that the association would give the men one week to return to work, and if they refused open shop would be declared.

Robert F. Murray, president of the teamsters' union today questioned the likelihood of an open shop declaration by the association, owing to the teamsters being strongly entrenched and backed by other unions.

Murray claims 220 of the 550 striking members are at work at the docks. E. M. Hart, secretary of the draymen's association, declares that all of the employers are standing pat.

POLICE ON JOB. Following the trouble yesterday between a truck driver and a striker in which the former drove a Chief of Police J. F. Lynch issued a statement in which he declared that no violence or disturbance will be tolerated.

In regard to the stand of the employers, M. B. Driver of Berkeley, president of the draymen's association, has issued the following statement:

"We have adopted an attitude of peace and harmony. We feel that we have a righteous cause and will 'stand pat' until the last. The teamsters received advances twice last year, once on June 4 and again on September 2. They are violating the agreement which they made with us and we contend that a further advance at the present time would be unjust."

"It is wrong to ask the merchants for more money at this time, as the present wave of the high cost of living is at its peak. If we give the men more money at this time the consumer will ultimately have to stand the expense of the increase."

As a result of the walkout of the teamsters a congestion of freight is commencing to appear at the railroad stations.

The following resolution on the strike was adopted at a meeting of the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce yesterday:

STRIKE IS DECLARED. Whereas, The Teamsters' Union, No. 70, of the city of Oakland has declared a strike, demanding an increase of $1 per day, and above the rates now paid of from $5.50 to $1 per day; and

Whereas, The Employers' Association of this city has, within the last year, acceded to the demands of the teamsters' union and twice raised their employees' wages—the first raise being 50 cents per day and the second being $1 per day; and

Whereas, These two raises of wages were granted in spite of an existing agreement fixing wages for one year; and

Whereas, There is a disagreement between the Draymen's Association and the Teamsters' Union as to the date of the expiration of the wage agreement—the former maintaining that the agreement expires, as set forth in the caption of the printed agreement (which was signed and dated by the Teamsters' Union), on September 2, 1920, and the latter claiming that the agreement expired, as set forth in the body thereof, on June 14, 1920; and

Whereas, There is a clause in the agreement that there shall be no strike during the life of the agreement; and

Whereas, There appears to be a reasonable doubt as to the date of expiration of the agreement; and

Whereas, There is a difference of less than ninety (90) days between the claims as to the expiration of the agreement; and

Whereas, There is an agreement between the union and the association that the wage scale of Oakland teamsters shall be the same as that of San Francisco; and

Whereas, The Oakland scale of wages has been and is the same as that of San Francisco; and

Whereas, A teamsters' strike will prejudice the business of Oakland and place uncalculated and unnecessary hardships and burdens upon every citizen of Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and surrounding territory; and

Whereas, Such a strike is almost sure to lead to violence and disturbance of the public peace and to an increase in the already high cost of living in these communities; therefore be it

Resolved, By the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, That it deplores and deprecates the teamsters' strike and calls upon the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the citizens of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley to withhold sympathy from the striking teamsters; and be it also Resolved, By the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, That it especially deprecates and deprecates any act that even suggests a break in an existing wage agreement. Such agreement should, in the opinion of the directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, be as sacredly observed as other agreements.

PARCEL POST GROWS. The strike situation has considerably increased parcel post activities, according to Postmaster J. J. Robinson. This condition is especially reflected in shopping district activities, where dependence was had upon private express and parcel delivery concerns. Suspension of the service has compelled recourse to parcel post and keeping a half dozen of the postoffice wagons on the jump. In the large department stores, where postoffices are regularly maintained, little inconvenience has been caused, but where merchants must deliver packages to the postoffice much trouble has been caused. The cost of this government delivery, it is estimated, is now employing it, is little if any in excess of private auto.

WIFE CHARGES
POISONED KNIFE
MEANT FOR HER

A dagger from the East Indies, declared to have a poisoned point will be an exhibit in the divorce trial of Mrs. Victoria G. Swanson against Hugo D. Swanson, 2175 Vicksburg street, Melrose, an inspector on the Southern Pacific ferry boats.

In her divorce complaint on file today Mrs. Swanson declares that her husband has repeatedly threatened the life of herself and children with this dagger, declaring that it had a poisoned point and that a mere scratch would result in death. A restraining order has been granted by the court preventing Swanson from visiting his wife and children because he had threatened to kill them if his wife sued for divorce.

The dagger which the wife now has in her possession, is of a unique design and is incised in a bamboo sheath.

The wife also charges that Swanson has threatened her life with a revolver, which he placed against her body on different occasions, and that during their married life he made a habit of being away from home on Sundays and holidays, and once declared he thought less of her than of his dog. The wife asks for the custody of the two young children and $75 a month alimony.

Tourist on Visit to Denver Is Suicide

DENVER, June 17.—Hanging from a beam under the Twentieth street viaduct here, the body of O. Judd Ware, apparently a suicide, was found today. A bank book showing deposits of $1600 in an Altona, Ill., bank, and letters indicating the man also had lived in Galveston, Ill., were found on the body. A luggage check of yesterday and tourist literature found in his pockets indicated Ware was a tourist.
